

QUEEN VICTORIA SCHOOL

HIGHLAND SOCIETY OF LONDON ANNUAL PRIZE 2015

This year the Highland Society of London Prize was awarded to Rhona Wilson. Rhona has been an active member of the dancing team throughout her time at Queen Victoria School and was elected Principle Dancer last year due to her ability to engage with all students and her astute leadership qualities.

Throughout the year she has dedicated her own time to help the dancing department prepare for major events such as Parade Sundays and concerts.

Rhona successfully organised and took part in the "Winter Treat" and events that QVS hosts for elderly residents of Dunblane before Christmas, to showcase the pupils' talents. This involved choreographing dances, arranging outfits and organising extra rehearsal time to ensure all pupils were prepared, all of which Rhona was responsible for. Rhona has also worked through her bronze, silver and gold UKA Dancing awards along with achieving gold bars 1 and 2. Rhona has also began studies to undergo her teaching award for Highland dancing
